

Registered Route Note Provider

The description to be used is Subjective Route Notes and this applies to the supply in advance of a rally, or the reconnaissance period for a rally, of any written information that describes the route of a special stage (other than road books).

Events can only supply Route Notes if they are prepared by a registered provider.

A provider who is registered with Motorsport UK is required to comply with the following conditions:

- a. Any DVD or other visual data supplied must consist of a straight ahead view of the road with the only additional view on screen to be a direct view of the steering wheel to allow the angle of corners to be assessed. No additional camera views are permitted.
- b. All styles of subjective route notes that are supplied must be able to be related directly back to the source survey material. No other interpretations of the route information are permitted. This does not prohibit the use of computer technology to directly translate information (e.g. Reversing the number sequence used to describe corners).
- c. The notes must be supplied in a bound format with each page marked with the supplier's name.
- d. Notes can only be supplied to competitors a maximum of 10 days before the start of the event or the start of reconnaissance for the event.
- e. Suppliers must confirm to Motorsport UK that they hold an appropriate type of liability insurance to cover their activities.
- f. DVDs are not permitted to be sold separately and must be supplied in conjunction with a set of subjective route notes.
- g. A copy of the DVD must be supplied to the event organisers before the event.
